

Artificial Intelligence ("AI")

Holtzman Vogel's Artificial Intelligence ("AI") practice group is knowledgeable in the fast-evolving field of AI law. Our attorneys guide clients through the legal complexities associated with AI governance, data privacy, intellectual property, and regulatory compliance, particularly as it applies to those operating in the political and advocacy space, and ensures clients' interests are represented as this new regulatory and legal framework evolves.

The AI practice group serves a diverse range of clients, including:

- Political Campaigns and Advocacy Groups: Ensuring AI compliance using emerging technologies in political advertising, media, and voter outreach while managing risks associated with AI misuse.
- Tech Firms & Startups: Assisting with legal compliance in AI innovation and regulation.
- Corporations: Advising on AI integration, data privacy, and risk mitigation strategies.
- Government Contractors: Ensuring compliance with federal AI regulations and ethical guidelines.
- Non-Profits: Addressing the ethical use of AI in public interest and advocacy initiatives.

Holtzman Vogel's AI practice group has deep experience in regulatory law, government investigations, and litigation, offering clients strategic solutions to succeed in an AI-driven world.